SURGERY CONSENT FORM

Our greatest concern is the wellbeing of your pet. Prior to anesthesia, a veterinarian will perform a physical examination of your pet. For a more complete evaluation of your pet's health status, we recommend pre-anesthetic bloodwork to evaluate for signs of infection or underlying organ dysfunction which may change how we approach anesthesia for your pet. We also recommend an IV catheter and IV fluids for general anesthetic procedures. The pre-anesthetic bloodwork and IV catheter and fluids are detailed below and are available at an additional cost.

While hospitalized for surgery, your pet will be given pain and anti-inflammatory medication. An anti-inflammatory and pain medication will be prescribed for all surgical procedures to be given at home once the pet is discharged.

Surgery Options:

- Bloodwork (CBC/Chemistry 10/SDMA): This panel evaluates the patient's kidney and liver function and includes and early kidney disease indicator. It also evaluates red and white blood cell levels looking for anemia or signs of infection. The results guide the veterinarian's treatment of your pet and can indicate underlying health problems prior to surgery. Due to the increasing likelihood of health problems with age, bloodwork is required for pets over 8 years of age undergoing anesthesia/surgery.
- IV Catheter and Fluids: This procedure is recommended prior to surgery to maintain the patient's blood pressure and hydration. Should an emergency situation arise, a pre-placed IV catheter allows for more rapid administration of medications.
- Post-Operative Laser Therapy: This procedure can be completed after a surgery or dental cleaning. The treatment uses four wavelengths of light to speed healing as well as decrease pain and inflammation and speed healing time.
- Microchip: If your pet is ever lost or stolen, veterinary clinics and animal shelters routinely scan pets for microchips to identify the rightful owner. If your pet is not yet microchipped, we can place one while under anesthesia which will permanently identify your pet through HomeAgain. If your information changes, please update it with HomeAgain. HomeAgain may contact you with further microchip protection options. However, you are not required to purchase these additional services unless you wish.

*On the following page, please indicate your choices for your pet's procedure. If you have any questions, please ask the technician who checks in your pet. *******
